

II.3 Purpose of the Self-Study Standards ;

- x To serve as an ongoing planning and assessment tool for the school

The COA expects that the Self-study will be helpful to the school and program. The COA encourages the school to distribute the Self-study widely and publicly. The Self-study helps the school's own faculty, students, and administrative officers understand the processes and challenges it needs to address its future development.

The Self-study must consider the Standards in their entirety, addressing each
